Some of the kind responses from the team at LJ Hooker (India) below

Dear Sandy,

It has been a pleasure working with you and it has been a great learning experience, you were someone I could always go to with a problem, and you would find an instant solution. I looked up to you in many ways. With your vast experience in the real estate field, I could always ask you for advice. I learnt even simple things such as how emails were structured, how to be a smart and effective sales person and how to never, never give up.

I looked forward to trainings on Mondays, as this made me a better person both professionally and personally. You always knew who had potential, and the best quality is that you would support everyone no matter what.

I was disheartened to hear about you moving back to Australia. A great motivator, I look forward to being in touch with you. Here is wishing you nothing but the best with your future endeavours.

Regards, M Sanat Ram Shetty, Business Development Head – Project Marketing, South India

I will always know you as a great leader.

Your years of experience and knowledge in Project Marketing plus great attention to detail helped me and the LJH team in achieving new heights.

As our CEO you helped us in creating visibility and distinguished us from the competition by being a great orator and making effective presentations to large audiences. You helped me look at the market from a new perspective and analyse changes and improvements month on month.

I wish you a great future wherever you go.

Paul Antony, Regional Head – Project Marketing

I have been working with you (as CEO- LJ Hooker India) since 2012, and it has been really a learning period for me, the expertise that I have seen from you in the field of real estate is marvellous, and every time that I have approached you for adding realistic inputs on the Macro and Micro level market onto the report, you made it in the best possible ways, and that made all my research works a success, and it was appreciated by all the stake holders as well.

You have a broad understanding on the Indian real estate market, with the period that I worked with you made me in moulding myself to professional adviser in the field of real estate

Idirees Chennakal, Research Head

I'm very sad to know, a great loss to me personally and to LJ Hooker, without your training and support I would have not been in this position of good knowledge in project marketing today.

I wish you would have been in the system forever to support everyone, especially the training you give us is excellent and your patience one of the best things I learnt from you.

Thanks a lot we will miss you so much.

Regards, Naveen, Project Marketing Team Leader

I had the pleasure of working with you for over 5 years. Learnt a lot from you: being an effective leader, getting the maximum productivity from people by walking besides them, selling and retaining Clients. You taught us new strategies in the ever-changing dynamic Indian markets and how to approach customers.

You have the art of bringing the best out of employees. As a CEO, You are generous, open minded, trustworthy and an expert in your job.

It has been a fantastic journey of learning and getting to know a strong and brilliant individual Like You.

Kind Regards, Prabhakaran S, Senior Manager Project Marketing

Though it was a short span of time in which we worked together, the experience and knowledge shared cannot be measured.

Coming from a different industry experience, the guidance which you provided helped make the transition smoother and gave me the confidence to handle senior clients with a flair that reflects my professional capacity.

Your feedback and input added a new dimension and perspective of viewing a scenario. Your ability to seize opportunities and find feasible solutions to a problem is a quality which I have always admired and will no doubt be driven to emulate as often as possible.

I wish you were associated with us for a longer duration, so that we could have benefited from your expertise more.

Thank you for everything and wishing you success in all your future endeavours. Do keep in touch!

Thanks and regards, Suchindra. R, Head- Design Studio and Marketing

I've had the privilege of working for you at my first job out of college and I will always be appreciative of the fact that you saw potential in a wide-eyed, young college graduate with no experience.

Out of the box analytical thinking, problem solving, and customer relationship management are just some of the great lessons I've learned under your guidance. Your understanding of the market and persistence with clients makes you an effective transactional manager and leader.

In the 2 years of working together, I've also got to know you on a personal level. Your honesty, compassion for your associates and respect for the system truly make you one of a kind. I wish you the very best in your future endeavours.

Kind Regards, Adnan Furniturewalla, CRM and Data Manager
